

A story of people and passion

CHÂTEAU VIGNELAURE was created in the 60's by Georges Brunet (former owner of Château La Lagune, 3rd Cru Classé in Haut-Médoc, Bordeaux).

Since 2007, Vignelaure is the property of the Sundstrøm family.

By working with a passionate team, the family is always looking for excellence.

Located in the North of Aix-en-Provence between 350 and 480 meters high, the estate is surrounded by Sainte Victoire's hill. The vineyard covers more than 275 hectares with 55 hectares of vines planted on a limestone and clayey soil mixed with gravels. Vignelaure benefits from a particular microclimate : during the ripening cycle of the grapes, the difference between day and night temperatures allows to produce wines with a good freshness and complexity.

Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah, Grenache, Merlot, Cinsault and Carignan are cultivated on 3 different plots : La Grande Pièce, Chante-merle and La Colline. The blend brings complexity to our red wines.

Since 2013, we produce organic white wines with different grape varieties such as Rolle, Roussanne, Sauvignon Blanc, Sémillon and Viognier.

All of our cuvées in white and rosé, are certified organic.

Vignelaure was the pioneer of planting Cabernet Sauvignon in Provence. This grape variety gives structure and elegance to the wine. Syrah gives the aromatic character to the wine.

We are specialized in the production of red wines with a great keeping potential and we propose three cuvées in red, rosé and white :

1 CHÂTEAU VIGNELAURE

Since 2007, this prestigious estate has belonged to Swedish winemaker Bengt Sundstrom. Together with technical director Philippe Bru, they bring out the best character of this high-altitude clay-limestone terroir (350-480 meters). By optimizing the vineyard and cultivating each parcel with care, they have created a variety of cuvées, ranging from quick consumption (Le Page and La Source in rosé and red) to age-worthy wines with excellent longevity. Their well-awarded red wines have an excellent ageing potential, along with their elegant whites, and their innovative orange and sweet wines. While rosé is not their specialty, but is still excellent and award-worthy.

The wines: the IGP white 2021's punchy personality consists of Sauvignon, Roussanne and Viognier, opening the tasting. The richness of partial malolactic fermentation and oak-barrel ageing combine to create a well-balanced wine. White pepper, citrus, white flowers, delicate oak and salinity on the finish. We aren't yet completely sold on the Orange de Vignelaure, but it presents notes of flowers, a palate of dry extracts and beautiful notes of bitters on the finish. The rosé continues in its Provençal style. It doesn't stand out to us, but this is not what the domaine is known for anyway. The reds, however, honor the memory of Georges Brunet, the famous Bordeaux winemaker who was the first to reintroduce Cabernet to Provence. The 2017's tannins have softened but remain strong. The peppery grip on the palate forms the foundation of this still phenomenally youthful red with superb tannins. Powerful yet balanced, 2018 has a deep, refined character with excellent ageing potential, but already containing a delicious, balanced structure. Finally, 2019 has all the assets of an exceptional Provençal wine, but is yet to make it onto the market due to the wine's minimum ageing requirements.

Red : : 46 hectares : 32 % Cabernet-Sauvignon , 30 % Syrah , , 26 % Grenache noir , 6 % Merlot , 4 % Cinsault , 2 % Carignan

White : 10 hectares : 33% Rolle, 26 % Sauvignon blanc , 16% Sémillon, 15% Roussanne, 10% Viognier

Median production : 240 000 bottles/year

CHÂTEAU VIGNELAURE Coteaux d'Aix-en-Provence 2009 Score: 90 / $30

Ripe and succulent, with enticing notes of black cherry preserves and plum paste, underscored by a licorice snap accent and backed by a ganache-coated finish. Delive ample fruit despite the extra bottle age. Should continue to develop well in the cellar. Cabernet Sauvignon and Syrah. Drink now through 2021. 20 cases imported.—J.M.

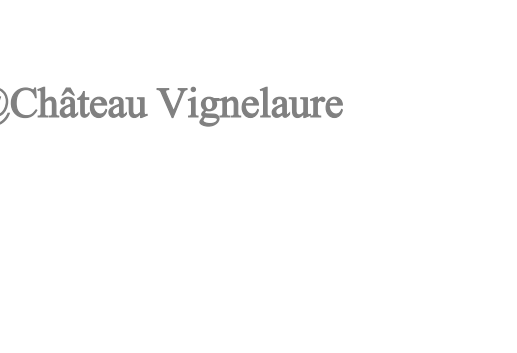

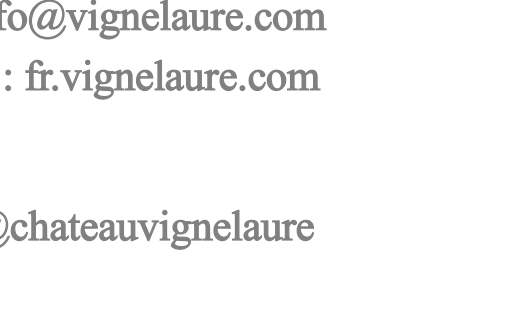

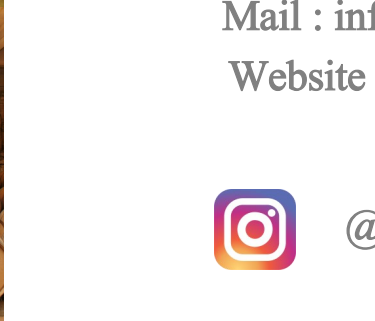

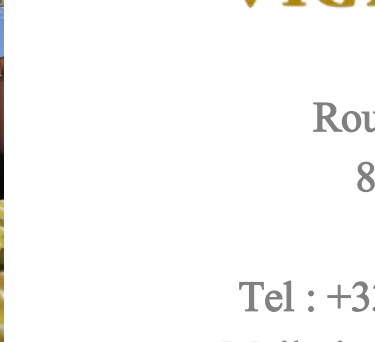

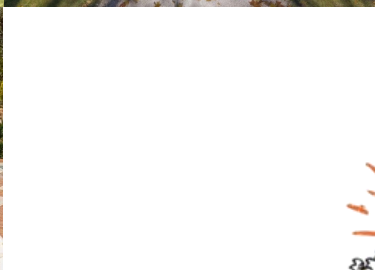

« Château Vignelaure, the famous vineyard in the appellation of Coteaux d'Aix en Provence. The wines of Vignelaure are perfect examples of Provençal winemaking at its highest level. Considering their very reasonable prices... Vignelaure represents excellent value ».
